

DEL REY SCHOOL, latest addition to Orinda's grammar school system, will open Monday. Dedication ceremony will be held at 9:30 a.m. that day, at the school. Here are a few views of the new kindergarten-through-sixth grade institution, described by Superintendent of Schools Joseph L. Sheaff as the most impressive in the Orinda Union School District and as outstanding in the Bay Area. At left, five youngsters are "playing school" in one of the eight classrooms. Seated in the back row are Donald Blake and Carol Felting. In the front row are Mason Fries and Nan Damme. "Teacher" is Noel Jones. Next picture shows, left to right, Noel, Mason and Nan at a drinking fountain. Third photo from the left is an exterior view of the attractive building. Bond Vote Asked for Pine Grove School

Pine Grove Hearing Scheduled Nov. 24

Public hearing on East Bay Municipal Utility District's application for rezoning of the Pine Grove area and the strip along the west side of Orinda Highway, between the Crossroads and the Village, is definitely scheduled before the County Planning Commission for the night of November 24, County Planning Technician Tom Heaton announced yesterday.

The date is a week later than that which had been tentatively considered by the commission — November 17.

Scheduling of the hearing for November 24 followed request by the Orinda Association for delay until such time as its Orinda Planning Committee will have the opportunity to meet with the commission's technical staff so as to learn what basic facts have been gathered regarding Orinda.

Heaton and Joseph Creighton, acting chairman of the Orinda Planning Committee, said that they have tentatively agreed on a meeting of the Orinda group and the technical staff next Thursday afternoon.

CREIGHTON conferred Tuesday afternoon with General Manager John W. McFarland, Attorney Harold Raines and Properties Division Manager Phil Wagner of EBMUD at McFarland's office in Oakland.

It was agreed that effort would be made to hold another meeting of the local committee and EBMUD officials before the November 24 hearing.

However, no general accord was reached on EBMUD's request for rezoning to Retail Business classification some 40 acres of Pine Grove land, at the northeast corner of the Crossroads, and about 12 acres on the west side of Orinda Highway.

THE ORINDA PLANNING Committee held an open meeting in the Orinda School library last night, as this issue of The SUN was going to press.

Invited to the session were representatives of neighborhood improvement clubs. Purpose of the meeting was to sound out community sentiment on the controversial Pine Grove rezoning proposal.

This gathering had originally been tentatively scheduled for last Tuesday night but was postponed so as to allow more time for informing the improvement clubs about it.

"We're not opposing anything specific regarding EBMUD's application, because we haven't determined anything specific EBMUD has in mind for exact details for the Pine Grove," Creighton said.

"IT SEEMS very possible that some additional business area may be needed in Orinda, but no evidence has yet been given that anywhere near 52 acres is needed for that. And looks as if between a third and a half of the Pine Grove would be used for multiple dwellings if the EBMUD plan goes through.

"Some 10 acres of the Pine Grove

C of C Discusses Yuletide Decor

Decision on Christmas-season decorations is expected to be made by the Orinda Chamber of Commerce in the near future, Secretary-Treasurer Robert E. Gemetti Jr. reported after the chamber luncheon meeting Tuesday at Casa Orinda.

Three suggestions for Yuletide ornamentation were discussed at the meeting but no action was taken, according to Gemetti. They are:

1. Decorating the telephone poles in the business area.

2. PLACING A large Christmas tree at the Crossroads and another in the Village.

3. Decorating of each store by the individual merchant, in cooperation with the chamber.

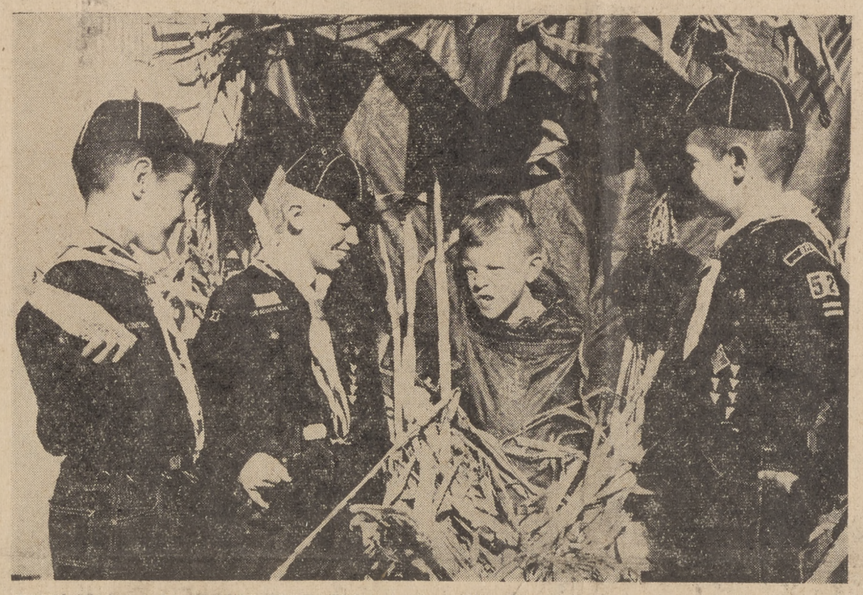
The Christmas decorations committee consists of Tom Horton, chairman, and Paul Vashell.

PARKING problems were also discussed by the chamber members.

Ramsay Underwood of the parking committee, reporting for Chairman R. E. Wadsworth, reviewed the three lots in which the chamber is interested for parking purposes.

TWO OF THEM are owned by Pacific Gas and Electric Company, and a lease from PG&E is expected to be signed soon. One is on property back of the Orinda Theater parking lot. The other is across Brookwood Road, next to the former site of Bradley's Market.

The third, at the corner of Moraga Highway and Brookwood Road, is owned by Donald Breed.



YOU'D MAKE A FACE LIKE THAT, TOO, says Don Hildebrandt (making the face, with his head serving as target) if Richard Bowles (left) were about to toss a wet sponge at you. Harold Libbey (next to Richard) and Robert Bowles enjoy Don's predicament during this practice session for "Wet Sponge," one of the many games to be staged at Cub Pack 52's Carnival tomorrow at Glorietta School.

Diablo Highway Federation Studies Sacramento-Northern Railroad Route

Possibility of the county's acquisition of Sacramento Northern right of way was discussed by directors of the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation at their meeting Monday night at the home of Horace Breed at 80 Camino Encinas, Orinda.

Board members pointed out that county acquisition might prove particularly feasible at those places where the county is planning to spend road bond money for projects paralleling Sacramento Northern tracks, such as St. Mary's Road.

At such spots, it was stated, the SN right of way might bery well be worked into the county road system.

POSSIBLE RAPID transit use of Sacramento Northern facilities also came in for discussion.

However, directors agreed to study further the entire Sacramento to Northern Picture for this area. It was felt that the subject requires more investigation, and that after such study a recommendation can be made to the Board of Supervisors.

INADEQUATE ILLUMINATION on Mt. Diablo Boulevard between the Contra Costa end of the Broadway Tunnel and Orinda was mentioned in a letter from the Orinda Oaks Association, signed by William P. Wilke.

Wilke asked for advice on what could be done to correct this situation.

The federation board decided to investigate the problem and to get in touch with the State Division of Highways about it.

THE "BACK ROADS" program for the Lafayette area was also discussed.

Chairman Elliott J. Hartman announced that this matter and the status of the county road bond program will be reported on by County Road Commissioner Victor W. Sauer at the federation's annual meeting November 30, 8 p.m., at Acalanes High School.

Sauer is expected to be accompanied by several of his staff members. They will contribute to the reports and discussion, according to Dudley Thickens, federation secretary-treasurer.

THICKENS REPORTED that on Sunday he and Hartman drove over the area from the Sacramento Northern tunnel to Lafayette, to become more familiar with the facilities which Western Pacific Railroad, owner of SN, is planning to abandon if the Oakland City Council grants the long-sought Union Street franchise to Oakland Terminal Railway.

OTR is jointly owned by Western Pacific and Santa Fe Railroads. Third and final reading and vote on the proposed franchise ordinance is scheduled for Tuesday night at 7:30 before the Oakland City Council.

AT THE NOVEMBER 30 annual meeting a new board of 11 directors will be elected for the following year. The nominating committee will suggest a slate of chairman, vice-chairman, secretary-treasurer and eight other directors.

Charles Nelson of Orinda is the present vice-chairman.

Party Delights 'Goblins'--New Homes Unmolested

By HARRIET AINSWORTH

This is a story that wouldn't happen at many places or times. But it did happen in Orinda last Saturday night.

Here are the ingredients of this story — and another one that might have had to be told.

Take an Orinda hillside of families full of children. More than 30 children, and a lot of these are bright, energetic 10-year old boys.

Take new houses under construction in the neighborhood.

Add Saturday night, masks and all Hallow's Eve.

A PRETTY EXPLOSIVE combination of ingredients — save for one more, the Bill Brock family. Mr. and Mrs. Brock and their five children live at 51 La Cuesta on this Orinda hill.

The Brocks gave a Halloween party for the whole hillside, such an excitingly well-planned one that all the trick-and-treaters couldn't wait to get to it, some arriving barely at dusk, an hour and a half early.

There were games with prizes for each age-group, and the groups ranged from 19 months to 10 years. Musical newspapers, pin-the-nose-on-the-pumpkin and apple - bobbing went on simultaneously, and the racket must have been heard for miles.

Mrs. Brock, in a remarkable home-grown Gypsy costume, told everybody's fortune, and Bill Brock wowed the audience with movies, especially the football scenes run backward.

THE FESTIVITIES were such that several of the parents had to drop in to see the fun, and suitable refreshments were provided for them, too.

By 9.30 the most animated animal spirits were sated and everybody dropped off to bed. The new and empty houses sat serene in the moonlight, untouched by pranksters' hands.

Enjoying this hilarious experiment in community welfare, besides the grownups, were Sandy, Steve, Nancy and Roy Miller, Linda Bargonis, Scotty MacFarland, Bobby Rochester, Clint, Grig and Dike DeWitt, Mary Ann and Wally Ruedrich, Tommy Fitsimmons, Roger and Alleycott Howard, Virginia Phair and Ward and Karen Ohlson.

Others were Gail and Ray Haywood, Brian Moriarty; Randy, Steven and Jimmy Thaman, Jay and Adeline Ainsworth, Robby and Radford Kendall, Jimmy and Janet Gilwee and the five Brocks, Tommy, Betsey, Jimmy, Charley and Ted.

Two little girls, Margie and Marilyn Titmus, couldn't come Saturday night, so the indefatigable Brocks entertained them the night before.

THE BROCKS would be embarrassed to have the story of their king-size kid-size party widely publicized.

Bill Brock is the kind of guy who gives six pints of blood to the Blood Bank (the Orinda record), and nobody in the neighborhood knows it.

Libby Brock, besides tending to five children, quietly engages in school, Cub Scout and other welfare work.

But the whole neighborhood, including the owners of under-construction and otherwise empty houses, plus 35 kids who labeled the Halloween party "purr-fection," thought this Orinda story ought to get around.

Supervisors Turn Down Suggestion On Transit Board

A suggestion that Contra Costa County form a rapid transit commission was turned down Tuesday by the Board of Supervisors.

The suggestion was made by John Nejedly, Walnut Creek attorney who serves as city attorney and attorney for the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District.

The board directed the suggestion be turned over to the Transportation Committee of the Contra Costa Development Association and requested they volunteer services to the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit Authority.

THE AUTHORITY, formed of representatives of the State and the nine bay area counties, recently authorized a survey of the area transit needs and solutions. However, the survey will not be completed for at least two years.

Nejedly indicated dissatisfaction with the board's action and said Wednesday he would attempt to get some cities and county organizations to form some sort of a unit to accomplish the purposes his letter to the board making the suggestion enumerated.

His letter suggested the county unit be formed to:

1. Acquire Sacramento Northern Railway right-of-way for passenger service between Antioch and San Francisco.

2. DEVELOP MASS transportation facilities between Concord, Walnut Creek, Ygnacio and Clayton Valleys to Antioch .

Nejedly said the purpose of formation would be to avoid "hundreds" of law suits that might develop if acquisition of the right-of-way is put off too long and it is acquired by individuals.

The railroad abandoned passenger service on the line in 1941. It is now used for an occasional freight train.

BOARD CHAIRMAN H. L. Cummings who is a member of the Bay Area Rapid Transit Authority said he could not see a purpose in forming a board that would "just duplicate something that they (the Bay Area unit) could do on a much larger scale than we can."

Cummings also said two other county residents, R. W. Breuner of Orinda and Richmond City Councilman John Sheridan, are members of the Bay Area unit.

Board To Meet Tuesday

The executive board of the Orinda Mothers Club will hold its regular monthly meeting at 10 a.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. J. Unruh, 53 La Campana.

Parents Seek School Ruling On Punishment

A petition, signed by 69 Orinda parents, was filed with the Orinda School Board Monday night asking that the board establish a written policy on physical punishment in the schools. (see separate story for text)

No specific cases of physical punishment were mentioned at the meeting and no names of schools, parents or teachers were brought out. Edgar Stewart, president, asked the audience of about 40 people if they had any specific cases upon which they wished to comment and there were none. He said: "If there are no specific cases I will assume that the problem will be discussed on a purely academic basis."

SUPERINTENDENT of Schools Joseph Sheaff said, "When physical punishment is used, which is rarely, it is generally administered by principals in the schools. Usually they spank the child on the hand or on the seat of the pants with a ruler.

"As a general rule if the teacher finds it necessary to administer this type of punishment, he will tell me the circumstances under which it occurred.

"Whenever it is brought to my attention by a parent I always trace it down and investigate it thoroughly by talking with all concerned. I have complete confidence in the judgment of all teachers to maintain discipline on a level that will encourage and produce the best kind of teaching situation.

"IN INSTRUCTING teachers in their duties, I have warned them that they are responsible for discipline in the classroom, but have cautioned them to use discretion."

The petition was delivered to Stewart by Dr. Peyton Jacob Jr., who also headed the list of signers. Although he was not available for comment, Mrs. Peyton pointed out that:

"We don't want to act critical and we don't want to put anybody in a bad light. However, physical punishment is widespread throughout the district. My children are not involved, but they are very small. All the group wants is for the Orinda School system to conform to what other school districts do throughout the state.

"THIS IS OUR only complaint. I do not believe in physical punishment in the schools by the teachers."

Mrs. Walter Haefele, another signer, said, "Anything involving the school system is apt to get out of hand. We are not desirous of having that happen. We are against publicity.

"Big names in the communtiy are not involved. It's just something that other school boards, longer established, have made a study of and feel should be controlled."

MRS. HAEFELE said the matter had been taken to a committee of the Orinda Mothers Club several times before being taken before the school board, but that no action had been forthcoming.

Mrs. Catherine Schwarck, a member of the school board, commented that the reason the Mothers Club hadn't acted was that they felt that it was not the club's prerogative to act in matters of an administrative nature.

SHEAFF EXPLAINED that physical punishment is only one means of enforcing discipline, and that it is used only as a last resort and then with discretion.

"Principals hesitate to resort to suspension, which is legal for two weeks, particularly where the infraction of a rule is one that should be handled immediately."

Mothers Plan Room Meetings

Individual room meetings next week will be held in the following homes: Tuesday at the home of Mrs. W. Cook, 39 Donna Maria Way, the mothers of Mrs. Flesner's fifth graders will meet at 3:15. Friday, the mothers of Mr. Murnham's sixth graders will meet at 3:15, at the home of Mrs. W. Mulke, 45 Don Gabriel Way.

Special Meeting of Board on Nov. 16 Will Determine Amount to Be Sought

To obtain funds for purchase of some 13 acres of Pine Grove property as site for an upper grade school, the Orinda School District will hold a bond issue election soon, district trustees decided Monday night at their monthly meeting at Orinda School.

The school board scheduled a special meeting for November 16, 8 p.m., at Orinda School, for the following purposes:

1. To determine the amount of the bond issue.

2. To prepare necessary data in connection with asking the voters' permission for the district to borrow money through the state aid program.

SUPERINTENDENT Joseph L. Sheaff reported that no agreement has yet been reached with the East Bay Municipal Utility District about the desired Pine Grove site.

"However, the board is planning the bond election anyway, so as to be prepared for purchase of the land and construction of the school," he said.

THE SITE BEING SOUGHT is east of Orinda Highway, south of the Santa Maria Catholic Church property.

Present plans of EBMUD call for a 10-acre shopping area just west of the site, if Retail Business rezoning for the Pine Grove is granted.

NEED FOR THE upper - grade school was stressed by Sheaff, who pointed to ever-increasing student enrollment.

At the board meeting he reported enrollment for the district at 1665 — 545 at Orinda School, 680 at Glorietta School and 440 at Sleepy Hollow School.

Del Rey School To Open Monday

Orinda's newest grammar school, the Del Rey School on El Camino Moraga at Don Gabriel Way, will be opened for kindergarten through sixth grade pupils Monday.

Opening of the $189,000 building will be marked by dedication ceremonies at the school at 9:30 a.m.

Architect Jack Buchter will present the school to President Edgar B. Stewart of the Orinda School Board.

STEWART, after accepting the building in the name of the people of Orinda, will turn it over to Superintendent of Schools Joseph L. Sheaff.

Sheaff, after accepting responsibility for administration, will assign immediate supervision of the plant to Principal Philip Lambert.

Lambert will introduce the members of the Del Rey School teaching staff.

Band music will be led by Oscar Busch. A flag-raising ceremony will be directed by Miss Sara Sabelman.

Following the program, visitors, teachers and officials will tour the building and will be served coffee.

THE DEL REY SCHOOL, located about three miles south of the Crossroads, consists of eight classrooms, an administration unit, a teachers' room and a nurses's room.

It is considered the most impressive school in the Orinda Union School District and one of the most outstanding in the entire Bay Area. Pacific Coast Builders was the contractor on the construction job.

At Monday nights' meeting of the school board, Sheaff announced that bus schedules would not include Del Rey School pupils living on Don Gabriel Way, Donna Maria Loop, La Cresta and Moraga Highway from Altamount to El Camino Moraga, and in Lincoln Estates, because they live within a half-mile of the school.

Classes will start each school day at 9:10 a.m.

DEED FOR A 6-foot strip of property from Estabueno to the rear of the school property was accepted by the school board from the Lincoln Estates Development Company Monday night.

The strip was given to the school district by the company and will be maintained by the district. It will be improved with black-top by the firm.

The district will provide a walk to the school proper.

Other board actions concerning the Del Rey School included the hiring of Kenneth McGill as a fifth grade teacher and the purchase of furniture and an electric stove.

Here Is Petition to School Board

This is the petition which was delivered to the Orinda School Board Monday night regarding physical punishment in the schools.

It was addressed to Edgar Stewart, chairman, and was followed by 69 signatures of Orinda parents.

We are writing you about the policy of physical punishment in the Orinda Schools. According to present policy, both teachers and principals are free to use physical punishment whenever they deem it necessary and without the prior knowledge of the parent.

After discussing the present policy with a considerable number of parents, we find that for many reasons we are anxious to have the use of physical punishment limited to such cases where the parents have given prior consent. There are many reasons why we feel this way:

1. WHEN A CHILD misbehaves to the extent that physical punishment is considered, it is often a symptom of a more general disturbance of the child's relationship to others. Certainly the parent should be informed that this is the case and should be "in" on any remedial measures.

2. If the parent is uninformed, punishment may make the child temporarily conform at school and another symptom develop — this time less conspicuous but equally significant — such as a general inhibition in learning or excessive shyness. Those who argue that a "good whipping works" often fail to see what else happens to the child's general development.

3. Punishment is not without effect on the "innocent" onlooker. In fact, it is often the innocent, shy child, anxious to conform, who is hurt even more. Psychologists point out that this occurs because the child's vivid imagination exaggerates what might happen to him.

4. EDUCATIONAL psychologists all agree that a positive motivation based on a wish to learn is superior to a motivation of fear. Not only does it produce better performance, but it is without the harmful effects noted above.

We do not feel our suggestions are out of step with the policies of other school systems. In a survey of bay area schools (San Francisco, Berkeley, Oakland, Richmond, Palo Alto) we found that each discouraged corporal punishment except as a measure of last resort; all limited the use to principals only (not teachers) with a witness required.

OAKLAND AND Palo Alto required prior consent of the parents, and Oakland, San Francisco, and Palo Alto required a written report of each incident to the Superintendent.

According to the State Department of Education, the governing board of a school district may adopt and enforce a regulation prohibiting corporal punishment of pupils by teachers or principal, or may prescribe by regulations the conditions under which corporal punishment may be administered. We the undersigned parents would like for you to consider these issues at your next regular board meeting.

Just a Trace of Winter Rains

Da. Da Da Dumm," said the weatherman, making like a Dragnet. "Winter is a-coming and it is beginning to show signs of rain, although we had very little last week."

"But more will come, more will come," he said happily. He then told us that the trace that fell was not measurable and the season total is still .81 inches. Here are the day by day temperatures.

Special Program to Mark Opening of New Lafayette Filter Plant on Monday

East Bay Muncipal Utility District's new $600,000 Lafayette Filter Plant will be opened Monday.

Commencement of service to the Lafayette - Orinda - Walnut Creek area will be marked by special ceremonies arranged by the EBMUD Board of Directors.

THE PROGRAM WILL start with a noon luncheon at Rancho Grande at 3614 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, at which EBMUD Board President Louis J. Breuner and Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle will speak.

Presiding at the luncheon will be John W. McFarland, EBMUD general manager.

FOLLOWING THE luncheon, there will be a conducted tour through the Lafayette Filter Plant, which is at the north side of Mt. Diablo Boulevard, almost directly across from Lafayette Reservoir.

The tour will last from about 1:45 to 2:30 p.m.

The new filter plant, with a capacity of 21 million gallons a day, replaces the old Grant Miller Filter Plant and Pumping Plant at the same site.

THE NEW installation, which has been under construction about a year, is considered one of the most modern water purification plants. It is semi-automatic — EBMUD officials point out that it can operate efficiently and safely without a full-time attendant.

Water filtration will be accomplished with modern automatic equipment. Electrical equipment at the Lafayette plant will operate recording devices at the Orinda Filter Plant.

Frequent inspection during the 24 hours of each day will be made by EBMUD pump operators who work in the area.

Will County Own Sheriff Autos? Study Under Way

An "extensive survey" is being made by the county as to the possibility of the county's owning vehicles of the sheriff's office and other county departments, and a decision is expected to be reached "within two months," according to County Administrator Desmond M. Teeter.

Teeter's statement was made in a letter to Clayton Grange 734, in response to a resolution by the Grange asking that the county own such vehicles.

THE GRANGE RESOLUTION, addressed to the Board of Supervisors, had been referred to Teeter.

County Purchasing Agent Charles Hornback said this week that Sheriff James N. Long furnishes all the cars of his department except two which are furnished by the county and that the county pays for the mileage of the cars furnished by Long.

THE SHERIFF'S OFFICE stated that Long leases about 26 cars from neer Auto Leasing at 1816 Main Street, Walnut Creek.

A representative of Pioneer Auto Leasing said that although the firm is located at the same address as Sammie Evans, Inc., it is separate from the Sammie Evans firm.

Pioneer Auto Leasing at 1816 Main

County Audtior H. E. McNamer said that the county pays the sheriff 7½ cents per mile for mileage by the cars leased by him.

Diablo Valley United Crusade Begins Fourth Week; No Totals Available Yet

Although the United Crusade in the local area will begin its fourth week Monday, no information on total collections to date is yet available, according to Duncan Knudsen, chairman.

Explaining that the Diablo Valley drive got under way late, Knudsen said that collections are not near completion and returns cannot be tabulated.

One response — that of the J. C. Penney Company on Broadway — has been very good, he said. Penney employees have donated well over $300, with about 95 per cent of the 23 workers participating.

J. C. Penney Company itself contributed $200. Store manager Clint Newell is chairman of the Commerce and Industry Committee of the local crusade.

THE UNITED CRUSADE in the Bay Area began October 5. The Diablo Valley drive began October 19.

Knudsen indicated that confusion and misunderstanding have also tended to slow down the local drive.

The fact that a number of organizations refused to join the United Crusade has caused some of this misunderstanding, Knudsen indicated.

HE POINTED OUT that all local organizations were invited to join the Diablo Valley United Crusade, but many preferred to conduct independent campaigns for different reasons.

Among these are the Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American Red Cross, the Diablo Valley Girl Scouts, the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, the county chapters of the American Heart Association and the American Cancer Society.

"Even if fewer organizations were participating in Diablo Valley's gifts to the East Bay United Crusade, the effort and responsibility to carry a fair share would still rest solidly upon our neighbors and fellow residents," Knudsen said.

THIS WEEK the Diablo Valley board announced budgeted allocations for local agencies taking part in the crusade here.

These budgets are as follows: Boy Scouts — $25,500; Camp Fire Girls — $500; YMCA — $10,300; White Cane — $500; Herrick Clinics — $500; Contra Costa County Cerebral Palsy Society — $750 (subject to final agreement); and United Defense Fund (USO) — $2000.

If the total collections of the Bay Area Federated Crusades are 100 per cent of budgets of participating agencies, these local organizations will receive the amounts listed.

Otherwise each agency will receive a pro-rated share of the total collected. In the East Bay the grand total budgeted is $3,242,498.

KNUDSEN EXPLAINED that the $40,050 budgeted by the Diablo Valley United Crusade doesn't represent a quota of funds to be raised here.

On the contrary, a substantial amount of whatever money local agencies receive will come from amounts collected in Oakland and other places where local residents are donating at their places of employment.

Sewer Advisory Committee Becomes Inactive, Reports

'Sanitary District Is Well Run'

The Citizens' Advisory Committee to the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District announced Wednesday night that it would become "inactive."

Chairman Ford Tussing told improvement club representatives that the commitee had accomplished a great deal of what it started to do and that it "would become inactive until called upon by either the sanitary district board of directors or the improvements associations."

Tussing had called the special meeting to review the accomplishments of the committee with the improvers. Following a suggestion by The SUN, improvement clubs were responsible for the formation of the advisory group.

He reported that the committee "found the district well run and the employees loyal and hard working."

"WE TRIED TO SEE what we could do to help the district from a businessman's operation," he explained, "and we received a great deal of cooperation.

"We feel that there has been a great deal of benefit to the district and the area." He reviewed the recommendations the committee made May 4 and pointed out that most of them had been carried out, and that therefore the purposes of the committee's formation had been accomplished.

He called upon district engineer Gerry Horstkotte to review the problem of excess water which is finding its way into the sewer lines.

Horstkotte explained Ordinance 23, which states that it is illegal to hook downspouts or drainpipes into the sewer system and told of the district's attempts to track down all illegal connections.

HE ASKED THE AID of the improvers in explaining the problem to residents of each area and stated that he would be willing to work with them in any way.

He told representatives that as the area continues to grow, the system is rapidly approaching capacity, "and in the winter months, sometimes exceeds it."

His recommendations were asked and Horstkotte replied "we must follow our present course of repairing existing lines and checking structures which have been in the ground for more than 6 years, but we also must start thinking of ways to overcome the volunteer water problem.

"I ESTIMATE THAT 3 million dollars will be necessary for corrective and expansion work in the near future."

Improvement representatives commented that they thought the advisory committee might continue in operation in order to apprise them of the necessity and extent of a bond issue, should it be called for.

Bob Kahn, a member of the committee, pointed out that "we are a specialized group called for a certain purpose and we have fulfilled that job. If it is simply information on a bond issue you want, you might form a committee to investigate that possibility. We would be glad to assist."

WILLIAM SOMERTON, president of the Lafayette Improvement Association, commented that, "it is pretty futile trying to interest people in drain-spouts and district problems. Concern is slow coming unless you have a hot issue, let's face it."

Taking these things into consideration, the advisory committee adjourned the meeting with the improvement club representatives and called a meeting of their own group, at which time they voted to become inactive until further notice.

Nine improvement club representatives were present.

Just about everyone turned out to see the varsity rack John Sweet Friday afternoon. That night lots of cats went to Shirley Jones' to celebrate the victory.

After the party EVERYBODY went to "Freddy's and then the girls returned to Shirley's for a slumber (less) party.

ALL THE GOOD lil' Boy Sprouts attended their annual dance with a good time had by all.

Saturday, Linda Jacobsen and Bitsy Burns went down to Stanford to see Jim Burns play frosh football and to see the varsity game.

KYLA HOUSTON threw a huge ball Halloween with all sorts of spooks and goblins wandering in and out.

The varsity "tooled" around in a truck and pelted unsuspecting "trick-or-treaters" with tomatoes, while a gang of wild girls gathered at Sandy Sondag's for another slumber party.

Adjustment Board Second Hearing Held by Planners

Second public hearing on reorganization of the County Planning Commission to include a board of adjustment was held before the commission Tuesday night in Martinez.

A reorganization, to allow the Planning Commission more time for major matters, has been endorsed by the Contra Costa Taxpayers Association, the Planning League of Contra Costa County and the Contra Costa Real Estate Board.

All organizations agree on the general idea of a board of adjustments to handle mnior matters, but there is some difference as to its organization.

AMONG THOSE attending the Tuesday hearing were Ed Rowland of the Planning League, King Parker of the Real Estate Board, W. H. Somerton of the Lafayette Improvement Association and Paul Nelson of the Contra Costa Title Company.

The Real Estate Board had previously suggested that the board consist of five different boards sitting in each supervisorial district to consist of three or five members.

The Planning League suggested three boards to serve three different sections of the county. No specific geographic breakdown was suggested.

In the Tuesday hearing it was also suggested that a sub-commission of the Planning Commission, made up of commission members, be set up as the board of adjustments.

The commission board would meet on different nights than the regular commission. This suggestion was opposed by the Planning League.

ACCORDING TO a member of the County Plannnig Staff, the consensus was the proposed board should be limited to a side yard and set back variance requests.

It was also suggested by Nelson that the board hear requests for a variance in lot size or minimum frontage regulations up to a 20 per cent variation.

However, according to the staff member, it was felt the commission should continue to hear all use permit requests. The staff member also said that about two-thirds of the requests received by the commission now are side yard and set back variation requests.

Insurance Man in Eastern Course

Accord Reached On Taranto Plans For New Homes

Anthony J. Taranto's architectural plans for the buildings he is erecting on two lots on Crest View Drive have been approved by the Board of Directors of the Moraga Woodlands Association, it was announced recently by Dr. Edward S. Rogers, association secretary.

Taranto, who lives at 5 Culver Court, recently received County Planning Commission and Board of Supervisors approval to divide Lot 74, on the south side of Crest View Drive, into two lots of more than a half-acre each.

THIS OKAY was given despite protests by residents of Moraga Wodlands Unit 2.

These protests included arguments by Calvin Hagstrom and Charles Biesel and a protest petition presented by Hagstrom and signed by 75 property owners.

ROGERS EXPLAINED that association opposition had been based on Taranto's plans to divide Lot 74 into two lots and on fears that resultant structures might not be architecturally pleasing and might not be in keeping with surrounding dwellings.

However, the association board has conferred with Taranto and with people in the immediate area of the site, and satisfactory details have been worked out regarding the architecture and appearance of the buildings, according to Dr. Rogers.

"THE ASSOCIATION board has approved the plans for the buildings," the secretary said.

Regarding the division of Lot 74 into two lots, he pointed out that the feeling in the area is still against this, even though each parcel is over the half-acre requirement for a Residential-Agricultural zone.

Bids to Be Asked for Construction of All-Purpose Room at Glorietta School

Trustees of the Orinda School District voted Monday night to call immediately for bids for construction of an all-purpose room at Glorietta School.

Estimated cost of this project is $60,000 to $70,000, according to Superintendent of Schools Joseph L. Sheaff.

Sheaff explained that the County Board of Supervisors will be asked to sell the $45,000 in bonds remaining from the $400,000 bond issue approved by the district voters in 1950.

THE SUM to be realized from the bond sale will be used for the all-purpose room job, Sheaff said, and the balance of the necessary money will come from the district's capital outlay funds.

Other board business at the meeting at Orinda School included:

1. Announcement that, beginning Monday, starting-time at Orinda, Glorietta and Sleepy Hollow Schools will revert to 9 a. m. During the past few weeks the starting time has been 9:20 a. m.

ALL BUS PICKUP schedules will be advanced correspondingly.

Orinda School seventh and eighth grade students living within a half mile from the new Del Rey School will board their bus at the Del Rey School.

Notices of the new schedules will be brought home by students today, Sheaff said.

2. REJECTION of requests to dismiss children from classes at 3 instead of 3:20 p. m.

It was explained that the only legal reason for excusing pupils is sickness and that therefore the board is not establishing a policy of dismissing students before the legal dimissal time of 3:20.

School officials lack authority to dismiss students early except for school functions, trustees said.

3. NAMING OF Virginia Dane to do part-time individual intruction for the district.

4. Hiring of a maintenance man to do gardening work at the four grammar schools.

5. Hearing a report by Clerk Catherine Schwarck on the teacher shortage in California, which was discussed in detail at the recent annual Trustees' Association meeting in San Jose.

Two Big Jobs – Laurie Neilson to Build Reservoir Roof, Russian River Bridge

Laurie Neilson of 55 Camino Encinas, Orinda, is handling two major contracting jobs — erection of the roof for Leland Reservoir and construction of a $304,000 concrete and steel girder bridge across the Russian River.

The contract for the roof job for the new 19-million-gallon reservoir was awarded recently by the East Bay Municipal Utility District Board of Directors, on Neilson's bid of $92,916, is was announced by John W. McFarland, EBMUD general manager.

Neilson, a former resident of Lafayette, said this week that he expects to start work on this project about November 15 and that it will take about six months to complete.

Leland Reservoir is being constructed on the south side Electronic Mountain, approximately halfway between Lafayette and Walnut Creek.

THE RUSSIAN River bridge, at Talmadge Road in Ukiah, Humboldt County, is being built for the State Division of Highways.

Work was started a few weeks ago. The contractor estimated that the job will take about a year.

THE ROOF which will cover Leland Reservoir will be lightweight concrete. Leland Reservoir will be the first and the largest EBMUD reservoir to be covered in this manner.

Neilson said the material to be used will all be prefabricated concrete.

After installation of the columns, girders and beams, the covering slabs will be placed in position, he explained. He is also building truss-walls for anchorage for the roof.

ANOTHER DETAIL will be a boat-hatch which will allow a boat to enter the reservoir underneath the roof, Neilson said.

Completion of the entire Leland Reservoir is anticipated by the latter part of 1954.

IN LAYING the foundations for the Russian River bridge work, construction crews are descending to about 40 feet below the river-bottom.

To do the necessary work at that depth, a "gopher dam" is being used. Neilson described the "gopher dam" as a huge waterproof wooden box, with its open top above the surface of the water. The men work safely inside the box, he said.

About our happy Country Folks

By EDITH BOLMAN

THE "GIRLS" HUSTLED THEIR bustles over to the Orinda Country Club last Friday morning for the most outrageous golf tournament yet—the annual Hustle Bustle. Everyone was wearing special headgear to represent songs—the results were certainly a tribute to the ingenuity of the lady golfer.

For instance, Barbara Dawson was looking depressed and tired of it all with her hair done up in a corse meshed hair net with weights dangling over ears and an eyebrow—?—Why, Dragnet—of course. An other interpretation of Dragnet was Mrs. Carlton Rank's get-up of a large fish net wound around her head and dragging on the floor.

Mrs. Henry Donovan was a Bird in a Gilded Cage and was having quite a time drinking her coffee through the open door of the real bird cage she had on her head. Mrs. Roland Hopkins looked shy and hunted wearing antlers coyly festooned with flowers and a red, red nose. An extremely elaborate hat was the Can Can worn by Mrs. Tom Carlson—a confection of ruffled skirts flying North instead of South, out of which kicked two papier mache legs complete with ballet slippers and dainty mesh stockings.

Mrs. Conrad Shafft wore a scull cap covered with keys and a kitten perched on top. Mrs. Aubrey Sweet was White Tie, Top Hat and Tails with every thing in proper order including two little representatives of the mink family dangling off the rear of the hat. Mrs. King Wilkin had two cocktails atop her noggin and Mrs. Robert Hoyt could scarcely be found under her interpretation of Rag Mop. Many more, but the most unusual note was a MAN—Golf Pro Patten joined the girls as a gracious fourth wearing a hat covered with vegetables and fruits but lacking guess what—Yes, we have no bananas.

About par for Halloween golf.

AND THAT WASN'T ALL—the course was obstacled by someone in a goblin mood. From one tee you drove your ball out of an ice cream cup and hope to goodness that you could do what you ordinarily hope to goodness you won't do—top your ball. On another one you had to stand on the springs and upholstery of an old car seat and drive while at the same time trying to maintain your balance without falling on the fairway, face down. Many a ball was fanned on that one.

The most fiendish of all was a pumpkin placed over the hole on the 15th and, as though that weren't insulting enough Mrs. Merle Noble made a hole in one and stood the "Girls" for a cocktail at luncheon.

Also for Halloween Miss Luzanne Lang assembled an odd assortment of gypsies, ghosts, fairy princesses, Arabians and Chinese for a dinner and trick-or-treat orgy.

And one more Halloween doing—the fancy dress party at the Country Club had reservations for the following: Messrs. and Mesdames Richard Frost, Alton Stack, Roland Hopkins, Jack Scammell, Charles Murra, Dan Peacock, Alfred Meggs, Don Doten, Graves Hudson, Thomas Ray, Paul Butler, Robert Hamilton, Joseph Downs, Ralph Ong, Ralph Hart, Sterling Fishbeck, Niel Taylor, William McGuire, Robert Hoyt, John French and Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Hofmann, John Graciano, Francis Borgnino and Gerald Barr and Mrs. R. N. Slingerland.

This is a prize comment on costumes.

The costumes were hilarious with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Downs winning first prize as a horse, Mr. Gerald Barr and Miss Mildred Lane as Farouk and friend won second. Third went to Mr. and Mrs. Neil Taylor as a bird and little girl and fourth to Mr. and Mrs. Dan Peacock as pumpkins.

Also in keeping with the crisp autumn air, snapping apples, nut brown leaves and that invigorating tingle that goes with the change in the weather comes the Gypsy Holiday Fiesta being staged this weekend by the Holy Names Mothers Club. A fashion show, a bazaar, a turkey dinner, a play, almost everything to keep you amused and fed on November 6, 7 and 8. Call Mrs. John Gillivan for information or Mrs. Woodward at Ashbury 3-9442 for tickets.

How much is that doggie in the ad?

Mrs. John French would like everyone to know that the puppies have all been given away—it's either that or have her telephone removed. It seems that "Mama' a Belgian terrier, presented the Frenches with five cunning black pups which, considering the existing supply of livestock was just about five over the quota—so—an ad in The SUN to the effect that Mrs. French would give them away, one at a time, to families with probable worth and children.

And so the deluge of phone calls which goes to prove something about The SUN's ads and/or puppies.

Aw . . . there's really nothing to it.

And speaking of The Orinda SUN—have you ever gone through a newspaper plant in action? Now that we are working on Journalism Badges with eight of the young ladies of Troop 86, Diablo Area Girl Scouts, we took our first trip through said organization. With perfect timing (purely accidental because we turned up just as soon as school was out) and a sense of the dramatic (almost accidental because, due to the measles we did not turn up when originally planned) we closed in on the operations just at that tense pre-dawn moment when the press was about to start.

The air was electric so, in order to keep us out of the staff's hair until everybody had teed off, the lady took us to see the typesetting gadget. That confusing composite of keys, graphite and metal is most certaintly a cross between an antique typewriter and an antiquer sewing machine. The gentleman operating same was performing the impossible—i.e.—making sensible newsprint out of a frazzled manuscript all jammed up with corrections, deletions, addition, et cetera—probably somebody's column. We made a mental note that nevermore to get excited over a slight slip in our epic. How anything goes through that contraption and comes out with everything in place is a mystery.

Then—a roar to the East and IT was running. We forgot all about our typesetter and stood at open mouthed attention while "Press" gobbled up a lot of perfectly plain paper and shot it out the other end neatly folded. Good thing the operations were well steered because our open gullets were almost as big as Press' and a facetious little SUN in a Halloween mood could have jumped down one of our throats just as well as Press'.

THEN SILENCE. We thought of course that Press was busted. Gents scampered around—took out a sheet to be inspected by Mr. Editor Silverman (speaking of who was wearing what, Mr. Editor Silverman turns up in a starched white shirt, for heaven's sake). After inspection somebody pokes around Press' rib cage because, it appears, that Press had developed a "slice" when a "hook" would have shown up to better advantage. And then with a Garrumph and a roar off it went again and so, came into being, the October 30 edition of The Orinda SUN.

That is all.

Varied Church Services Given

The Orinda Community Church holds four chapel services each Sunday to serve the needs of various interests and age groups within the Protestant community.

The inclusive church worship service is conducted at 11 o'clock by the Rev. Fred R. Morrow with the assistance of Ray L. Welles. He will deliver the sermon this week on the topic "Out of the Heart."

AT THIS HOUR the chapel choir sings "O Worship the Lord," an anthem by Hollis, under the direction of Margaret Popovich. Daniel Popovich is organist.

Most crowded service is that held at 9:30 for youth and adults, with the minister and student assistant conducting worship for a half hour period, and with Marena Hewitt at the memorial organ.

There is no sermon at this time, but in the following half-hour class periods are scheduled for young people and adults.

Sunday a new series of adult sessions will begin under the leadership of Dr. Gail Cleland featuring Biblical biographies.

Children of all ages are instructed at 9:30, and again at 11 o'clock classes are held for children through the third grade.

HIGH SCHOOL age young people are led in a chapel service by Mr. Welles as part of the evening session of the church's Pilgrim Fellowship program.

He will present an earlier portion of the program in the form of an illustrated trip to Europe, showing slides taken by himself on two summers abroad.

Lutherans Plan Baptism Service

A Special Baptismal Service will be held this Sunday at the 11 o'clock service at the Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church at which time the pastor, Edward R. Andersen, will speak on the topic "Looking Upward."

"When men can turn neither to the right nor to the left, nor back, nor forward, it is easier to point them upward," he said.

THIS BAPTISMAL Service will include the following children and adults: Barrie Bea Brodrick, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Brodrick of 2 Camino don Miguel; Roxine and Coleman Huntley, children to the Huntley's at 46 Stanton Ave.; Kathryn and Geral Dunbar, children of the Dunbar's at 3 Crest View Drive; Glen Edwin Marttila, son of the Martilla's at 129 Overhill Road; Randall and Walter Ammon, sons of the Ammon's at 246 Overhill Road; Bruce Carter, son of the Carter's at 36 Meadow Lane; Kenneth Ellsworth Hill and Mrs. Rose Mary Hill, 5 Valley View; and Mr. C. Full Nursery Dads and Work Coming Up

Operating on the old Army theory that a man works better on a full stomach, members of the Orinda Nursery School plan to feed the fathers prior to "Fathers' Workshop Night" Thursday.

Promptly at 6 p.m. pot-luck supper will be served, followed by a traditional speech of welcome, addressed particularly to the by now "full" fathers, by Mrs. William A. Patterson, director of the school.

FOR THE BALANCE of the evening the fathers will then "assist about the rooms" at the school, accomplishing chores generally too difficult for the mothers, who will be assigned other up-keep work, according to Mrs. Philip W. Faulconer, hostess for the annual event.

Fathers are asked to come equipped with hammers, also some large and small paintbrushes. Mothers should cart coffee cans, one and two pound ones; old birthday and Christmas cards, rags, worn bath towels for children's smocks, and old clothes, both ladies' and gentlemens', for the pre-school set to dress up in.

DECORATIONS at the pot-luck supper will feature themes from Richard Armour's book of poems, "Partly Proud Parents." Serving on the supper committee with Bunny Faulconer are Alice Faisst, Maudie Hammond, Marguerite Ivers, Ethel Ray, Phyllis Simon and Ruth Reinhart.

Wednesday, Armistice Day, will be a school holiday. November 18 is scheduled as the nursery school's next orientation meeting for new mothers.

Mrs. Patterson, with teachers Mrs. Henry Harris and R. H. Laney, visited the Broadmoor Parent Cooperative Nursery School in San Leandro on Teachers' Institute Day.

MRS. PATTERSON reported that at the San Leandro school, which is under the local Board of Education, father's as well as mother's of nursery school children attend classes once a week. Interesting outdoor play equipment, she said, was procured when the San Leandro school had a contest between fathers' of member children.

"In the school's housekeeping corner, for instance, there was a real child-size four-poster bed some father had made, and the morning we visited one child slept in it all morning," Mrs. Patterson said.

The Orinda director reported that San Leandro nursery members were interested in the Orinda spring dance which annually benefits the school and that several of the San Leandro nursery staff plan to visit and observe the Orinda school in the spring.

All Kinds of Kids, Horses And Equipment Show Up!

"There's every size and shape of horse and child too, and it's kind of amusing sometimes," said Mrs. Clarence Betz, as she commented on the children's riding class held in her riding ring Saturday mornings.

"But it teaches the kids good horsemanship as well as how to ride," she said, "and that's the important thing."

EVERY SATURDAY morning a dozen or so children show up at the Betz home on Sunrise Hill to take lessons from Hazel Putnam of Alamo ,a professional instructor.

The kids bring their own horses and equipment and the lessons are pretty reasonable, according to Betz, because Mrs. Putnam gives group lessons.

MOST OF THE children are youngsters of the Orinda Rangers, although there are some who are not. Again, it is the first formal instruction for many of the kids, although some are regular pupils of the instructor.

"The whole thing started out during summer vacation," commented Mrs. Betz, "but the kids liked it so well that we decided to let them continue on Saturday mornings.

"Many of the mothers have told me that the kids refuse to do anything else because it would interfere with their lessons."

SHE ADDED that eventually they might put on a show of some kind, "a sort of recital" after they have finished their instruction, but, "they aren't ready for that yet."

They are learning how to ride their horses on the highways and county roads, how to perform some tricks and a little drilling, as well as the all-important care of their own horses.

MRS. BETZ said the lessons would continue as long as the kids wanted them to.

Included in the list of "students" are Marty Fichter, Ann Clayton, Ann Shuey, Heidi and Priscilla Devin, Patsy Stevens and Cindy and Steve Rasmussen.

Orinda Couples in Gala Spook Party

Halloween festivities 'round Orinda included two collections of masked creations when the couples' clubs of the Community Church celebrated last week.

Mrs. Kirk Miles by the light of the silvery moon that night was the inspired ghost complete with clanging chains who spirited youthful Shipmates to the Nursery School Unit and whisked rejuvenated Clippers into Fellowship Hall.

LID MILES' repretoire of moans and groans reflected years of training while practicing interpretive dancing certainly in the graveyard of the original Sleepy Hollow. Or has she played Hamlet?

Mrs. John Ogden was a completely hilarious, positively "undescribable" sensation, while Ralph and Dorothy Hall appeared in decidedly authentic Indian costume including a papoose.

Newcomers Fred and Joan Fox as a dashing circus trainer and adorable trick rabbit took a Shipmate prize as did the substantially crawfilled scarecrows, Ralph and Lucile Phelps.

MRS. PAUL BYERLY looking like something out of Midsummer's Night's Dream was really an animated clotheshorse. And Mrs. Joe Creighton who believed she was dressed as a tawny-but-not scrawny lion won a prize for being a monkey.

Mr. and Mrs. DeLoss Winkler planned the Clipper get-together. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Swedberg assisted by the Bill Slyatts arranged the Shipmates' second - childhood spree.

Jackie Nesbit Marries Merle Hintz in Chapel

Miss Jacquelyn (Jackie) Rae Nesbit of Tacoma, Washington, formerly of Pleasant Hill, and Merle Hintz of Auburn, Washington, were married October 30 in the Little Chapel of the Flowers in Berkeley before immediate family and friends.

The bride wore a beautiful champagne-colored satin and lace wedding gown, ballerina length, with wedding veil and small beaded crown for headdress with linen lace pumps to match. The bride carried a lovely white bible with white orchid and lily of the valley of white lace, and small white satin streamers on its cover.

HER MAID OF HONOR, Miss Rilla Merle Demorest, wore a copper and baby blue changeable organza gown, ballerina length, with tiny copper colored chrysanthemums and blue ribbon bandeau for headdress. She carried a bouquet of copper and white chrysanthemums on blue lace in a circular arrangement, and wore pale blue brocaded pumps to match.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. J. M. Nesbit, wore a very dark maroon and black brocaded faille suit and pale pink spray corsage with soft dusty pink hat of tiny shells and sequins. Mrs. Fred Hintz, mother of the groom, wore a plum sheer lace gown with black beaded pumps and a becoming white hat and white gloves, with pale pink spray corsage.

J. M. Nesbit, the bride's father, gave the bride away. Walter Cardwell was best man from Yuma, Arizona, and a friend of the family, formerly of Bellingham, Washington.

The chapel is small and has lovely indoor gardens along the two walls and the altar. Beautiful candle arrangements throughout the chapel and on the aisle — also pink and white carnations in white baskets were used in the decorative scheme.

FOLLOWING the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Nesbit Sr. were host and hostess to 21 guests at a turkey dinner at the festive Garden Room of the Claremont Hotel in Berkeley. The famous Foy orchestra provided music for dinner dancing and played the wedding couple's favorite song, "'Til I Waltz Again with You."

Table decorations were white candles the full length of the table with a large oval of ivory white carnations — palms on the huge lars throughout the Garden Room, flowers and candles furnished a very lovely background for the wedding party.

Senior Students Learn Politics From Politicans

Acalanes High School seniors got a first hand insight into the workings of the state legislature recently when George Miller, State Senator, and Donald Doyle, Assemblyman, visited with three Acalanes senior problems classes.

Miller and Doyle described the processing of legislation at Sacramento, the good and bad points of lobbying and the general characteristics of legislative sessions.

Senator Miller emphasized that there was an important need for "thinking" young people to consider political careers since the quality of any government, local or federal, depends on the quality and integrity of those who serve in it.

The legislators' visit highlighted the Acalanes senior problems study of state government. The seniors problems class is given over to the practical study of problems in citizenship, personal development, vocational selection and other areas of immediate importance to high school seniors about to step into adult community life.

As an innovation this year Acalanes seniors are studying senior problems along the same lines as a college course as a means of not only covering the material in senior problems, but providing a college orientation situation for the students, many of whom will be in college next year.

Senior problems is taught jointly by William Ross and Arthur Dambacher of the Acalanes faculty.

Spotlighting the Strip

By KITTY COLE

Ever seen an "egg artist" in action? Stop in at the C. & B. RESTAURANT on North Main, between Walnut Creek and the Monument, and see, first hand, BOB BOLAND and his fabulous "artistry with eggs." Tosses them into the air with the greatest of ease, and they land in the pan, sunnyside up or over-easy, whichever you prefer, with the yolks intact. If you don't think this takes talent, try it yourself.

The GREGORY GARDENS PHARMACY FOUNTAIN, which is known for fine food, has added to its menu the well-known RICH'S DOUGHNUTS. Under the capable management of EARL LINN (he's young and handsome, girls). These doughnuts are made twice daily, and you've never seen such an assortment. A new custard-filled one is mm-mm good. For your fall parties, you can get a special rate on five dozen or more.

We've got our two favorite BOLOGNIAS back. ROSEMARY and FREDDIE have returned to the PIZZERIA after a visit to Chicago and ANITA and RICHIE BOLOGNIA have moved to Los Angeles. . . . STAN PARSONS, believing that Walnut Creek needed a restaurant where one could dine and dance, has added the RUMPUS ROOM to the LAS PALMAS. This room has an intimate decor, rather like a smart supper club, and serves dinners at very reasonable prices. . . . AL GALANTE has deserted the Bay Area for a Hollywood career and BUDDY WEBBER has taken over the baton at EL NIDO RANCHO once again. This is as it should be, since MR. W. is as much a part of the decor as the much-maligned windmill. JACK SEBRING joins the group as drummer.

Lafayette to Have First Nursery School

Lafayette is going to have its own Cooperative Nursery School. As yet it has no name, no home, and no starting date, but a group of Lafayette mothers is working to solve these minor difficulties.

The group includes: Mesdames C. B. Bishop, Johnson Clark, Lester Hink, Percy Jennings, D. G. Johnston, Ford Lovelace, Nero Pruitt, W. C. Spencer, Merbert Von Colditz, and Dow Votaw.

They will gather Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Johnson Clark, 849 Sibert Court, for their first official meeting. Anyone interested in attending, please call Mrs. Lovelace, Lafayette 4352.

REPRESENTATIVES OF other Co-operative Nursery Schools in Orinda and Walnut Creek will speak briefly on ways and means to start a new co-operative, drawing upon the experience of their own group. Also a representative of the East Bay Council of Cooperative Pre-Schools will give the function of the Council in relation to the individual and to the member schools.

Following the speakers, the group will attempt to formulate a "master plan," discuss finances and hiring of a director, and take up the problem of a proper site. It is hoped that all the difficulties can be surmounted in time for a January opening.

LAFAYETTE HAS NO Cooperative Nursery School and there is great need for one. Lafayette is becoming increasingly populated with young mothers of young children. They want and need a place to take their children for supervised play with their own age group, a place to enlarge their childrens' dramatic, cultural, and social horioznz, a place to discuss and analyze their role and problems as parents, commented one of the mothers.

Child Health Meet Wednesday

By special arrangement the Child Health Conference scheduled for the Lafayette Area on Armistice Day, wednesday, will be held in spite of the Holiday.

This Conference will be held at Our Savior's Lutheran Church from 9 a.m. to 12. Dr. Kendall W. Caldwell will be the Physician in charge.

AT THE CONFERENCE the doctor examines the child, and together with the public health nurse, advises mothers on problems of child care and feeding. Children who are enrolled in the conference receive necessary immunizations for diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and smallpox.

THROUGH THIS program, the Health Department provides these services until such time as local facilities are developed to serve this group.

Because of the limitations of nursing and medical staff, service must, of necessity, be restricted to the one out of seven applicants who needs it most. Conference is by appointment only.

The annual Armistice Day Breakfast will be held in the Veterans Memorial Building by American Legion Post 517.

Happy Birthday

BUDDY STANLEY

It was a real spooky affair when Buddy Stanley of Quandt Road turned 5 October 31.

A hideous old witch, reputed to be related to Buddy's father, Lynn, greeted his party guests. At first glance they appeared to be Bo-Peep, several cowboys, a policeman, two Tinker Bells, two bunny rabbits and any number of ghosts and witches, but closer inspection revealed Buddy's sister Laurel, Holly and Jeff Borowiak, Leslie Ann and Picky Moss, Lynete, Ronny and Paul Marchant, Sue Alexanderson, Patty Sibley, Laurie and Mary Beth Marek, Karin Klitgaard, Jean and Bobbie Morrison, Megan Evans, Jerry Ford, Laura and John Demeter and Stephen Bowcock.

This gay crew of little folk were served luncheon including sandwiches and Halloween-decorated cakes and cookies.

Mrs. F. Davidson and Mrs. W. Hall, leaders of the 4-H Club in Lafayette, said Dr. Lorber spoke in terms so that the boys and girls really understood the problems of animal raising.

The meeting took place in Room 1 at the Lafayette Grammar School. The club meets there every fourth Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Canyon Callings . . .

By GLADYS SHALLY

The eerie parade of wierd creatures and pretty sprites who tramped up hill and down in Canyon last Saturday evening must have been well "treated" at every house for the only "tricks" visible when All Saints Day dawned were a few upset garbage cans.

At 9 p.m. all the trick-or-treat spirits, plus additional assorted larger characters, met at Canyon School for a community Halloween party. Games were played in both rooms which had been decorated by the school children. The kitchen became a spook room, fixed up as a morgue, where Claude Seeds, dressed as an undertaker, greeted visitors.

THERE WAS dancing and entertainment which included skits by the Camp Fire Girls and a goblin recitation by Katty Beckman, Jackie Chessum and Chris Mead. Cider and donuts were the refreshments for the evening.

Mrs. Ida Styles, formerly of Canyon, was a house guest over last weekend of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Burpee.

George Chessum, who underwent surgery at Alta Bates hospital in Berkeley Thursday morning of last week is doing nicely and is expected to return home today.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Miller, formerly renting in Canyon liked our community so well that they have returned to purchase the Porter house as their home.

The next time Mrs. Joe Perreria wants to water her garden, she'll let Joe do it. She mashed a forefinger and thumb when attempting to start the water pump herself.

School youngsters surprised their teachers with birthday cakes and punch during afternoon recess last Monday. Both rooms celebrated together primary teacher Rubyruth Beer's birthday which fell on Halloween, and Principal George Maskers, on Monday.

Among Camp Fire leaders belonging to the Oakland Council who attended a recent training meeting at Camp Celio were Mrs. Charles Lucius, Mrs. Pearl Goss and Mrs. George Chessum.

There is a new episode to be added to the Dennie Clouses' collection of animal adventures. Last winter a deer fell down a bank onto their car, you may recall, as they drove along Skyline Boulevard.

Strangely enough, it was not until they became the owners of this same car that their many animal encounters occurred. On a recent dark night, when the family heard quite a racket in the yard of their Tunnel Road home, they did not investigate, thinking that a dog had knocked over the garbage can. Morning revealed the yard cut up by deer hoofs and evidence proved that the racket had been caused by a deer running into their car, parked in the driveway.

People who use Pinehurst Road appreciated the work done by the county in making the road less hazardous for driving. Brush and weeds have been removed, additional markers placed at critical points and many curves have been widened. Also a new guard rail was recently constructed along the creek in front of Canyon store. More and more central Contra Costa residents travel this uncrowded winding road in preference to the congestion of Mt. Diablo Blvd.

Another new stamp is out: the Trucking Industry 3-cent commemorative issue, is now available at the post office.

In honor of National Cat Week our feline friends should get a mention. The old batchelor farmer had more than 20 cats, all of which seemed to be pets. When asked if he had names for them he replied, "Yup, call 'em all "Comere" — that way ain't no trouble to remember a lot of names and when I want 'em I just go out and yell 'come 'ere' and they all come arunnin."

KID KWIP: Patsy, anxious to find homes for the latest batch of kittens, wanted to assure a prospective owner that all the kittens were house-broken, but what came out was, "Oh, my, yes. ALL of our kittens are home-trained."

Don Pennant Test: Panthers Tonight

Acalanes Fights For Top Spot

The Acalanes Don Varsity faces the first of the two tough remaining hurdles in its pennant drive tonight when it tackles a big and capable Antioch Panther eleven at Acalanes Memorial Field, starting at 8 o'clock.

The Dons still have a mathematical chance of copping half of the 1953 title but have to win the rest of the way in order to do that.

Mt. Diablo, undefeated, holds down first place and will still be there regardless of how the Dons come out tonight, since the Concord Devils draw a bye this week.

Tonight's Don-Panther game promises to be a thriller, as Antioch appears to have reached a peak after a slow start.

HAMPERED BY injuries, the Antioch Panthers dropped games to Albany, Pittsburg and Diablo, while the Dons dropped one to Albany but are back with all hands in shape.

One of the interesting duels of the night should be between fullbacks Rich Elliott of Antioch and the Dons' Ray Williamson.

Both top the 200-pound mark and are vying for top county honors along with Diablo's Stan Gaunt.

In Carl Maxwell and B. J. Hill, the Antioch club has two of the faster backs in the league.

Two standouts in the Antioch line are Roger Bauman, who was an all county end last year, and Cal Chaney, 205-pound tackle.

THE DON LINEUP has three changes from last week.

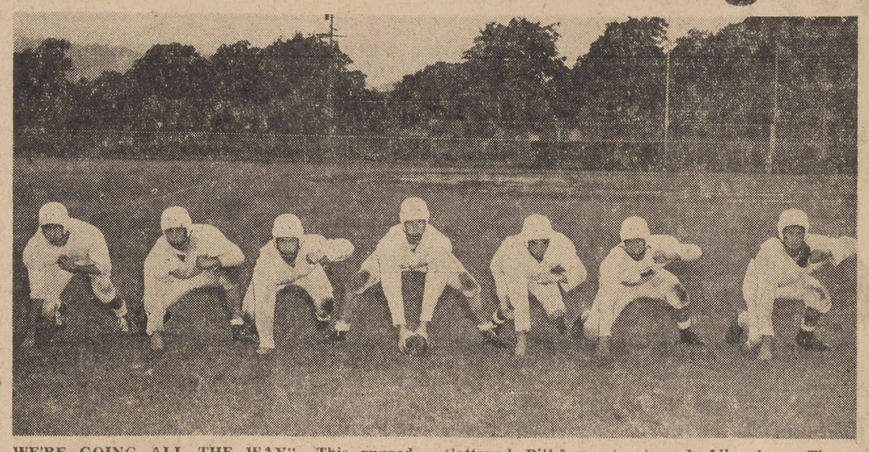
In the backfield, John Champlin gets the call over Dennis Busby at right half.

THE DONS WILL START an all-Senior aggregation with the exception of Andy Fadelli at left tackle.

Larry Tate will hold forth at right tackle and Bob Kinney and George Fortado at the guard spots.

Gary Howerton opens at center, with Ray Williamson, fullback; Bart Ferro, quarter, and Richard Munn rounding out the backfield.

Captains for the game will be Munn and Howerton for the Dons.



WE'RE GOING ALL THE WAY!! This rugged looking bunch of men (?) are Coach Mattson's "front line" as the Dons carry high hopes to cop the Championship this season. They have been doing a bang up job opening up those holes too. It is mainly due to their hard blocking and tackling that Acalanes has won two of these games (the backs did help a little). After showing Piedmont a rugged game, the Dons came roaring back and flattened Pittsburg (yea) and Alhambra. Then the high flying Dons were upset by a tough Albany outfit. Reading from left to right they look like this: "Glue Fingers" Kinney, Larry Tate (replacing Jim Hart who is out for the season with an injury), George Fortado, "Animal" Howerton, Martin Murphy, Gil Hanawalt, and Jim Larson who is replacing Danny Hollenbeck, who was indisposed at the time. — Acalanes Blueprint Photo

Las Lomas High Students Attend JC Sports Day

On October 21, school buses took students from Las Lomas High School to a sports day conducted at Contra Costa Junior College.

Thirty students, all juniors, attended. Fifteen girls were chosen by G.A.A., and the boys signed up with the coaches.

This is a yearly event conducted by the Womens Recreation Association of East Contra Costa Junior College. Each year the college invites two high schools to be their guests; this year San Ramon and Las Lomas were the honored guests.

Students played volleyball, table tennis and badminton. Dancing was also provided, and refreshments served. Buses left at 3 and returned at 5 p. m.

Ferrarese Hits Middle of List

Don Ferrarese, of Walnut Creek, former Acalanes High School Whiz, appeared as the 40th on a list of 75 Pacific Coast League pitchers, as a result of his 4-4 win loss record with the Oakland Oaks.

Allen Gettel was the only Oak hurler whose name was placed above Ferrarese's on the list, compiled by William J. Wiesse, official league statistician.

Six Oaks hurlers were listed below Ferrarese.

In total of 86 innings he walked 84 batters, while striking out 56.

President's Cup To Be Awarded

Some 100 to 150 golf club members of Mt. Diablo Country Club are expected to be on hand Sunday at 7 p. m. for a President's Golf Trophy award dinner.

Awards for both men and women golfers will be given in the main dining hall of the club following a buffet dinner that will feature spaghetti and Italian pot roast.

Norm Tauscher, club golf pro, will emcee the event and present awards. Mrs. Reg Bowman is president and Cecil Lloyd was tourney director.

The President's Cup will be given to Art Anderson and Lloyd will get the runner-up honors.

Award winners for the Ladies' Fall Handicap are Mrs. J. W. Irvin, first; and Barbara Kusserow, runner-up.

Dons Come from Behind To Beat Indians, 22-7

The Acalanes Dons wrapped up league win No. 3 last Friday afternoon but did it the hard way when they were forced to come from behind to score a 22-7 victory over the John Swett Indians after trailing at the halfway mark, 7-6.

The game was played at Crockett.

The Dons started off in good enough fashion as they took the opening kickoff on their 35.

In what proved to be a lucky 13 series of plays they drove the length of the field to score, with quarterback Bart Ferro going the final yard on a quarterback sneak up the middle.

Ray Williamson kicked wide to the left on the conversion and the count stood at 6-0.

THE PICTURE WAS soon to change, however, and Acalanes joy turned to gloom when the Don eleven seemed to be content with the 6 points and did anything but play good football for the remainder of the half.

John Swett copped the lead when a pass and run carried the Indians from their own 30 to the Dons' 8-yard line midway in the second period.

From there they ran around right end to score standing up.

The conversion kick, while low and wide, flicked the crossbar and bounded inside, making the point good and putting the Indians out in front by a 7-6 cout.

THE SECOND HALF found the Dons in a different mood.

There was a complete changeover in their play as they proceeded to rip the Swett line apart and presented a stone wall defense that stopped the Indians' offense cold.

The Dons started the second half by kicking off and then taking to the offense when Swett fumbled on the first play.

RAY WILLIAMSON boomed for 14 yards off tackle, starting from Swett's 28 and going to the 14-yard mark.

Richard Munn hit for two yards on a quickie, and on the next play fullback Williamson skirted left end to score.

He added the conversion on a fullback slant to the right, putting the Dons out in front, 13-7.

FROM THERE ON, it was the Dons all the way as backs Williamson, Munn, John Champlin, Geoffry Wahl and Larry Busby tore off chunks of yardage.

Touchdown No. 3 came in the final quarter after a 45-yard drive from midfield.

Williamson went the final three yards over guard, and the extra point was added when Lou Schrepel passed to Ferro in the end zone, making it 20-7.

THE SCORING ENDED when, midway in the quarter, guard John Spiegl threw John Swett's ball carrier for a four-yard loss in the end zone.

From here on in, reserves took over for the Dons.

They came close to scoring in the final seconds when Champlin broke around left and for 29 yards, but a pass interception ended the threat and time ran out before the Dons could get their hands on the ball again.

In the line, guards John Spiegl and George Fortado, along with tackle Larry Tate and end Bob Kinney were standouts for the winners, while center Gary Howerton was a standout on defense.

Football Season Nears End – Will Dons Play Devils for League Championship?

By ERWIN MATTSON

IT IS DIFFICULT TO REALIZE that the football season is rapidly coming to a close.

The county high school league winds up next week and it will be down to the wire for both elevens of the Acalanes Dons.

The Junior Varsity played Diablo at home yesterday in a crucial while the Acalanes Varsity tackles a tough opponent in the Antioch Panthers tonight at Acalanes.

A win for the Don Varsity would make next week's finale with the Diablo Devils a championship game.

Diablo is undefeated at this writing, while the Dons have dropped one.

THE DON J.V. was undefeated until it met its nemesis last week and lost 6-2 to the Pitt Pirates.

That threw the J.V. pennant race into a two-way tie involving the Dons and Diablo, with Las Lomas close behind with one loss and one tie marring an otherwise perfect record.

IN THE VARSITY race, the Dons are the only ones standing in the Diablo Devils' way for an undisputed title.

The Dons have to win tonight if they are to remain a threat, as Diablo is the only club in the league in the undefeated class, while all except the Dons have lost two or more.

The Dons have a single loss on their record. A win over Antioch would definitely make next week's Acalanes-Diablo tussle the game of the week. This week Diablo draws a bye.

In addition to regular rivalry, the Don-Diablo game takes on added significance in view of the fact that both teams will be battling for possession of the large perpetual trophy which goes to the winner each year.

Diablo has a 15-in-a-row record in the win column and is rated as one of the best elevens in Northern California.

The Dons have been in-and-outers, looking good when hitting on all cylinders and anything but good when they aren't.

Next Week Marks Prep Grid Finale

Old King Football is tottering on his throne as far as the Contra Costa High School League is concerned, and next week's play will see the 1953 season wrapped up.

Tonight's Varsity games find the Dons tackling the Antioch Panthers on the Acalanes turf, while John Swett travels to Martinez to meet the Alhambra Bulldogs and Pittsburg entertains Albany.

Diablo draws a bye.

All games start at 8 o'clock.

IN NEXT WEEK'S play, the Don Babes finish their season when they host the Pleasant Hill Rams, Pittsburg's J. V. goes to Antioch and Alhambra's Bullpups go to Concord to try their luck with the Little Devils.

All J. V. games will be played Thursday with 3:30 p.m. kickoffs.

The Las Lomas Knights wound up their season yesterday afternoon when they played the John Swett Papooses at Crockett.

IN THE VARSITY division, the Acalanes Dons play the big one when they close the season at Diablo's gridiron next Friday night, with kickoff at 8 o'clock.

League-Splitting Action Expected Monday Evening

Decision on dividing of the Contra Costa High School Athletic League is expected to be reached Monday night when the principals will meet.

Dame Rumor has it that a division may come next season.

If it does, it will find everyone madly scrambling for practice football games.

Practice football games are not easy to schedule, as each team has so few and most clubs are tied up with schedules a year or more in advance.

One way or another, the issue will probably be decided Monday night.

Any solution will be a temporary one, in view of the shifting and over-growing population of Contra Costa County.

Acalanes Students Publish Directory

Los Amigos, Acalanes High School student organization, has published a directory of Acalanes students' names and addresses.

The directory is being sold to the student body for 15 cents.

Will You Score in Kickoff Kontest?

Grid upsets across the nation continued to take their toll of pregame favorites last week—and once again blocked entrants in Diamond K Supply's Kickoff Kontest from reaching the "end zone" of prizes totaling $45 in value.

Eighty-nine entrants participated in the Kickoff Kontest, but none of them picked the 18 winners required for a prize.

How will the Kickoff Kontest go this week?

IF YOU PICK all 20 winners, Bill Magrath, owner of Diamond K Supply at 3671 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, will give you $25 in merchandise orders.

If you pick 19, you'll get $15 in merchandise orders.

If you pick 18, you'll get $5 in merchandise orders.

Tied entrants in any of these categories will share the award equally.

Entries must be turned in at Diamond K Supply before 11 a.m. tomorrow, or mailed so that they are postmarked before that time. See Diamond K Supply ad in this issue for complete rules.

CLOSEST TO BEING prize-winners last week were the following three, each of whom guessed 17 correctly:

G. E. Brown, 2460 San Miguel Drive, Walnut Creek; George Granath, 165 Theo Lane, Concord; Roger Fleiss, 11 Loma Vista, Walnut Creek.

Outcome of the U.S.C.-Oregon game was muffed by 87 of the 89 contestants.

The two who didn't miss on that game were I. C. Somerton, 3474 Hamlin Road, Lafayette, who, however, had six wrong, and P. A. Richards, 30 Greenway Drive, Walnut Creek, who had eight wrong.

Iron's Plant Growth Function Unknown; It's Needed in Chlorophyll Formation

By BERT WRIGHT

THE ACTUAL FUNCTION OF IRON in plant growth is one of nature's secrets.

However, a deficiency of iron in the plant results in failure of chlorophyll production.

Although this element is not a constituent of the chlorophyll, it must be present when it is being formed.

Typical iron deficiency symptom is yellowing of the leaf tissue between the veins and is most severe on the young growth, while older leaves remain green.

VERY ACUTE iron shortage is characterized by the leaves at the tips of growing shoots turning nearly white. Plants become stunted and the affected leaves soon die.

In most soils iron is the third most plentiful element, preceded only by silicon and aluminum.

An actual lack is uncommon, but in home gardens iron deficiency is brought about by excessive alkalinity of the soil, either because the soil is naturally highly alkaline or, more commonly, because of indiscriminate applications of lime.

The alkaline condition causes the normally plentiful iron supply in the soil to become unavailable to the plant roots, and the effect is the same as if the iron were totally absent.

TO AVOID iron deficiency, be sure your soil needs lime before you apply it.

Should your garden evidence iron deficiency, take steps to correct alkalinity by applying powdered surfur at the rate of four or five pounds per 100 square feet, or four ounces of aluminum sulfate per square yard.

These materials should be worked in, and the aluminum sulfate, in addition, must be soaked into the soil.

Kenneth Smith to Sing Tomorrow Night In Acalanes Community Concert

The Acalanes Community Concert Association will present Kenneth Smith, bass baritone, at Acalanes High School Auditorium tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, in the association's second concert of the season.

Smith, British-born and American-educated singer, has already fulfilled the promise he showed when he first began to sing in this country only a few years ago. He has been greatly in demand for orchestral appearances in New York and has appeared in opera in Montreal, Boston and New York.

BROUGHT TO America at the age of four from his birthplace in Leeds, Kenneth went with his parents to Stamford, Conn. He studied at the Manhattan School of Music and New York College of Music before the war.

He served four years in the Air Force and was a navigator on a B-24 bomber, flying 40 missions in the South Pacific, where his targets included Iwo Jima. He wears the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal and Oak Leaf Clusters.

WHEN HE resumed his musical career, Smith studied with Olga Forrai and soon began to make public appearances.

He was engaged five times by the Rhode Island Philharmonic, was soloist with the New York Little Orchestra under Thomas Scherman, appeared at the Lewisohn Stadium in New York in a Gilbert and Sullivan program and sang with the Buffalo Philharmonic under William Steinberg.

IN THE SEASON of 1952-53 he was re-engaged by Thomas Scherman and was engaged for six performances with the Philadelphia Orchestra and for appearances with the orchestras of Minneapolis, Baltimore, Indianapolis and Pittsburgh.

In addition, he apeared in the famous Bach Festival at Bethlehem, Pa.

Incorporation Study -- A Key Step

In deciding to take steps toward an adequate study of probable incorporation costs and revenues for Orinda, the Orinda Association board has acted in a far-seeing manner on a problem that gives every indication of assuming ever-increasing importance to the community.

The Orinda Association is to be commended for authorizing its incorporation study committee, headed by Frank Cayting, to investigate thoroughly the various ways by which such a study can be made.

As has been frequently pointed out, only through widespread knowledge of all relevant facts can the people of Orinda intelligently make up their minds as to whether or not they want this community to incorporate as a city.

Whatever money is spent on an incorporation study will be money very well spent. The facts that will be gathered will furnish a sound basis for future action.

Recent discussion by the association board favored the idea of obtaining professional help in the preparation of an incorporation study. It was felt by some that the Coro Foundation of San Francisco, which conducted last year's Lafayette incorporation study for the Lafayette Improvement Association, is an "amateur" group.

Without quibbling about the exact form in which a study should be made, The SUN believes it pertinent to point out that it considers the Coro Lafayette report to be very satisfactory. We have perused it thoroughly and find it to be a comprehensive work in which many vital facts and figures are logically listed and analyzed.

In our opinion, a Coro report should prove adequate in the preliminary stages of incorporation study by Orinda. Later, when incorporation studies are more advanced, the community and the Orinda Association might find it advisable to obtain a better, more professional report.

An important consideration is that a Coro report can be obtained for only a nominal amount of money. Cost of the Lafayette study was only about $100, for cutting of stencils, assembling of the report and incidental travel expenses of the Coro research workers. No salaries were involved. The cost was shared by the Lafayette Improvement Association and other groups.

The present moves toward getting a study under way reflect a growing realization by many Orindans that, sooner or later, the local citizens must decide whether or not they want Orinda to become a city and govern itself.

There are many pros and cons, and before the issue is decided there will probably be many hot debates. But the heat of these debates should be tempered by the cool, careful sifting of facts.

Only with such an approach can the people decide whether the increasing maze of local problems can best be solved by incorporation.

One example of the realization of this is the fact that the Glorietta Improvement Association has been for some time urging an incorporation study to be undertaken.

When the people of Orinda are ready, they will be able to discuss incorporation concretely. To reach that readiness, a program of preparation, analysis and discussion of all essential facts is necessary.

Needless to say, in mentioning the Coro Foundation we in no way are reflecting on the Contra Costa Taxpayers' Association and other organizations which are apparently very well-qualified to conduct incorporation studies.

The important thing to realize is that an incorporation study should be made as soon as possible, so that the people can become familiar with it and decide the future course of Orinda.

Suggestions to Make Highway Safer

With days growing shorter and dusk coming earlier, driving becomes more of a nazard.

With this in mind, and before the rainy weather starts, The SUN this week asked residents, "What do you suggest to make Mt. Diablo Boulevard safer?"

And here are the comments of people who drive on it.

"I WOULD like to think about that," said Mrs. Clarence Smith, 11 Los Conejos, Orinda, "But I think a lot of the trouble is up to the motorists themselves.

"If everyone were a little more careful about driving we wouldn't have all the awful difficulties we do. It's hard to tell how much is due to the motorists and how much to highway deficiencies."

"Take a few cars off of it, that's about all I can think of," was the reply of Mrs. R. C. Osmundson of 1971 First Avenue in Walnut Creek.

MRS. JAMES A. Merrill of 54 Palana Court in Walnut Creek suggested that a flashing yellow warning signal be installed at the intersection of Mt. Diablo Boulevard and Boulevard Way in Walnut Creek.

MRS. DONALD C. SMITH, 24 Monte Vista Road, Orinda, said "The only thing to do is have people drive slower. Lower the speed limit and enforce it. It would also help to widen the highway. People drive too fast on roads that were not meant to be traveled on at that speed.'

"A FREEWAY," was the suggestion of Mrs. Earl Scheringer of 36 Boyd Road in Pleasant Hill.

Robert S. Opelt of 2047 Marcia Drive in Pleasant Hill said he had just had two wisdom teeth pulled and asked to be excused as his wife too kover. Mrs. Opelt said more stop lights would be good and agreed that some by-pass roads to relieve traffic would help.

MRS. K. SLAGLE, 3216 Los Palos Circle, Lafayette, commented: "It should be widened to six lanes with a parkway down the middle. Thats' expensive, but it's exactly what it needs."

"Well, I'd say one more croswalk in Lafayette would help," said Mrs. Herbert H. Smith Jr., 3147 Stanley Boulevard, Lafayette. "People frequently jaywalk because there is so much distance between crosswalks."

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

In your column of October 23, you stated "I abhor McCarthy and his methods. And yet I realize that he has uncovered a great deal."

If I interpret this correctly, you infer that McCarthy has succeeded in his avowed purposes, namely, those of ferreting out Communist agents with a view to proposing remedial legislation, as well as exposing alleged inadequacies in present security programs.

I wish to take sharp issue with this conclusion.

IN FACT, I will state flatly that:

(1) Senator McCarthy has not discovered a single Communist in the government.

(2) He has not uncovered a single instance of proved Communist espionage.

(3) He has offered no constructive remedial legislation as a result of his much publicized investigations.

Item 3 is particularly significant, inasmuch as such legislation provides the only legal justification for a probe of this nature.

WHAT HAS Senator McCarthy succeeded in doing?

Well, he has accomplished the remarkable feat of reducing the entire Voice of America operation to shambles in a few short weeks.

Then in May of this year, Joe charged that two British-owned ships had transported Red troops during 1951 and 1952.

This created a flurry of excited headlines, but by the time it was discovered (as McCarthy had always known) that the ships had been seized from their British owners by the Chinese Communists early in 1951, the story had slunk into the dim recesses of the back pages.

JOE HAD FUN with the Overseas Libraries, until somebody spoiled the game by removing "Witness" from the shelves, and Joe cried "foul!"

For quite a while it remained a mystery as to just what was the criteria for judging whether a book was "pro-Communist" or not. In time it developed that 25 books by eight authors had been banned because, according to the Associated Press account, the authors were 'presumed to be Communists."

Since three of the eight authors were dead at the time of the inquiry, presumably, they were not called upon to testify.

A PROBE of the Government Printing Office looked so promising that Joe plunged in (mouth-first, as usual) with a statement that this would be "bigger than the Alger Hiss case."

McCarthy must have hit a snag, for the case was abandoned in midstream, and the senator decided to get married instead.

NOW IT IS Fort Monmouth, N. J. Just in case the senator is interested, I am a former Signal Corps officer, I handled many secret messages in the code room of General MacArthur's Signal Center in Tokyo, I was once stationed at Fort Monmouth (1946) and the guy in the next bunk was studying Russian in his spare time.

I knew a fellow with a foreign-sounding name who worked in the radar laboratories, and my wife (whom I met during my stay at Monmouth) formerly worked at the fort.

Make of that what you may; the senator is invited to investigate me at any time ,phoney that he is!

Sincerely yours,
Dave Comstock

Health Officer Warns About Olive Canning

Olive season is here again, and with it comes a warning from the County Health Department that bulk ripe olives should not be placed in sealed containers such as glass jars with tight lids.

Dr. H. L. Blum, County Health Officer, declared that this precaution is necessary to prevent botulism, a deadly food poisoning.

Under The Sun

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

I was reading the Martinez paper about a recommendation of the Clayton Grange that the county should own the cars operated by the sheriff and other departments. At present Sheriff Long provides the cars for his department and the county pays him personally a per mile rate.

I was keenly interested because this very expensive and inefficient county system has been severely critized by various grand juries for years. The SUN has printed these facts. But our county supervisors have never taken any public action on the grand juries recommendations.

Oh, ho, something new?

The last paragraph of the news story really stopped me. It read: "Questioned about ownership of sheriff's cars yesterday, however, Sheriff James N. Long stated that the county had leased 26 patrol vehicles for his department for the past six or seven months."

Well, this is most news-worthy! So I asked News Editor Julius Rosenthal to do the story. He did the following, listed in order:

1. Called County Administrator Desmond Teeter's office, where the Grange's resolution was sent by the supervisors. Teeter was on vacation, so talked to his secretary. She did not have the facts but called back later, saying she understood the facts in the paper were accurate. After further questioning, she suggested a call to County Purchasing Agent Charles Hornback.

2. Phoned Hornback, who said Long furnishes all sheriff's cars, except two. County pays mileage. He said the Martinez paper had wrong facts. Asked Hornbeck if Long owned the cars himself. Hornbeck said ask Long.

3. Phoned Long, who wasn't there. A sergeant said that Long leases 26 cars from Pioneer Auto Leasing, Walnut Creek.

4. Julius coldn't find a phone book listing for Pioneer Auto Leasing, so phoned Vance Perry, manager of the Walnut Creek Chamber. He knew the number.

5. Phoned Pioneer and verified facts.

And how much?

Jules then decided it would be pertinent to learn how much the county pays for the sheriff's cars. So he:

6. Phoned Hornbeck. He outlined the deal in a general way but suggested checking County Auditor H. F. McNamer for detailed information.

7. Phoned McNamer. He said county has three methods of paying for non-county-owned cars. 1. A flat $50 to $65 monthly. 2. 10 cents per mile for the first 500 miles per month and 5½ cents thereafter. 3. For casual users and the sheriff — 7½ cents straight.

Next the typewriter

So Julius turned to a typewriter. He wrote a FIVE-INCH story, including headline, which is in this issue of The SUN.

A lot of trouble for a five-inch story?

Yes, but Julius and our editorial staffers are good newspapermen. They know the importance of accuracy and often it takes a lot of checking to verify facts. We sometimes have wrong dope but it's not too frequent.

Moreover, we depend on the many publicity chairmen and correspondents for a large part of the news. It is impossible to check the thousands and thousands of facts that are presented in today's SUN. But we do our darndest.

Notes and names

Here's a cutie I picked up from the Mt. Vernon (Mo.) Record:

"A Boston man fell dead the other day while cursing an editor. Our citizens are invited to take note of the above circumstances and govern themselves accordingly."

Columnist Ray Haywood reports:

The story of football resuming at St. Mary's College is making the rounds again.

However, this time the story tellers claim to have some facts. They say that four Menlo JC football players transferred to St. Mary's this semester and that in addition the freshman class is approximately a football squad larger than usual.

The punch line to the rumor, according to those who claim to be in the know, is that Norman (Red) Strader, who has coached teams from here to there—including St. Mary's—since he began his Gael career as a fullback, is all set for the coaching job. Strader now is in the construction business.

Dick Graves, Lafayette resident and executive director of the League of California Cities, is doing an outstanding job — beating the drums for mass rapid transit. He hit the nail on the head by urging formation of a state department of transportation to handle rapid transit, freeways and highways. After all, it is one integrated problem.

Mrs. Robert Bolman arranged to bring her Girl Scout Troop 86 through The SUN plant. Then, measles struck the Bolman hacienda. In a note she wrote, "At the moment I'm looking a little peculiar myself. Take good care of Troop 86 for me. They will turn up with Mrs. Joseph Lang. May Sylvia and I go through alone later so we can get our badge in journalism? It seems that I have to have a badge in journalism, too."

Now, if you want a badge in journalism or just want to see our plant, just call in to arrange a tour. You and your groups are most welcome.

Congress Rumor Denied by Doyle

"I do not intend to seek election to congress," was the statement issued by Republican Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle this week in answer to rumors he intends to run for the Sixth Congressional District seat now occupied by Robert Condon.

Doyle said he made the statement, "Despite numerous rumors and in the face of repeated efforts by many friends and supporters."

He went on to say that he had yet to complete his first term in the assembly and he feels there is still a job to be done there.

Sermon Includes Bible Statements

"Adam and Fallen Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches Sunday.

Enlightening statements that make up the sermon will be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. Among them are the following citations:

"The righteous shall inherit the land, and dwell therein for ever. The mouth of the righteous speaketh wisdom, and his tongue talketh of judgment. The law of his God is in his heart; none of his steps shall slide" (Psalms 37: 29-31.)

Science and Health: "The great truth in the Science of being, that the real man as, is, and ever shall be perfect, is incontrovertible; for if man is the image,, reflection, of God, he is neither inverted nor subverted, but upright and Godlike" (p. 200).

Artists To Meet At Barnett Home

The Cooperative Art Association will meet at 10 a.m. Tuesday, November 10, instead of the usual Wednesday morning, at the home of Mrs. Edmund B. Barnett, 3343 St. Mary's Road, with Mrs. L. C. Kennedy and Mrs. John Whitehouse as co-hostesses.

Miss Vera Richardson, of the Acalanes High School art department, will be guest speaker. She will discuss the art program of the school and will illustrate her talk with student work.
